

APPEAL TOWARDS COVID-19 RESPONSE

To,

The Humanitarian Supporters,

The coronavirus pandemic is not only a health emergency, but an economic and social one. Thousands of wage earners have lost their work. Many of the workers from other states have been stuck up away from their homes. Children are living with distressed condition and are in nutritional deficits. Health care and sanitation are also at risk. The farmers have confronted with huge losses as their farm products are unsold because of national lock down.

With the closure of businesses and limits on movement, thousands will experience huge financial challenges in the months ahead. Together, we can help those who need it most. In response to the crisis we propose to support those affected financially by COVID-19, helping older people, single parents and families who are unable to work, who need money to buy medicines, fruits, milk, and are struggling to make essential purchases. Though Govt of India and Govt of Odisha have initiated support but it seems insufficient visualising the gravity of scenario.

The coronavirus outbreak is changing life as we know it and therefore NYSASDRI SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM & SOCIAL WORK (NSJS) seeks the benevolent patrons of India as well as abroad for supporting resources, including financial, required for food and other provisions, sanitary items, masks and such other for the vulnerable groups wherever is necessary. Our team of students & staffs are ever ready to be a part of this mission and in small way they have initiated the awareness cum sensitisation programme in the surrounding villages of the institution.

As we are the responsible citizens we need to unite and extend support to those who desperately require food, medicines, essential commodities and revival support on livelihood.

Kindly donate as minimum as possible as individuals/ group or through network. I am sharing herewith bank information and other details through which donation can be made instantly.
